HORACE L. KERGOSIEN ANNOUNCES CANDIDACY FOR T.-C. AND SHERIFF

Has Twenty Years of Active Experience in Public Service—Served in Office of Clerk of Courts and Four Years in Tax-Collector's Office.

A candidate for sheriff and tax-collector, Hancock county, Horace L. Kergosien is announced in this issue of The Sea Coast Echo, and solicits the support and vote of the public.

Mr. Kergosien made this statement in an interview with a representative of The Echo. He is both widely and favorably known over Hancock county and has been prominently connected in civic and political activities the past twenty years. This is quite a record for one yet so comparatively young.

Horace L. Kergosien is a son of Dr. A. Kergosien, who has distinguished himself in the medical profession and as chancery and circuit clerk of courts of Hancock county as well as clerk of the Board of Supervisors.

He is married, his family consisting of his wife and four young children. He is a native of Hancock and has spent the major portion of his life as a resident of Bay St. Louis. He is a graduate of St. Stanislaus College.

At the age of 18 he became deputy clerk of the courts under his father and served in that capacity for 8 years until his father, due to continued illness, was forced to relinquish the duties of the office and retired to public life.

Dr. Kergosien was succeeded by Mr. A. G. Favre, present clerk of courts who appointed Mr. Kergosien chief deputy clerk of the courts. This trust he served faithfully and with efficiency for four years, until he resigned in order to become a candidate for sheriff and tax-collector. This race resulted in close results and proved a manifestation of the confidence and personal esteem in which he is held by the people of Hancock county.

Mr. Kergosien's genial personality, coupled with his untiring efforts to accommodate and assist the people has won for him the friendship of scores of the good people throughout the county. He is practically known in every home and a "good word" is said for him in every community.

Four years ago he was a candidate for the same office of sheriff and tax-collector and led the ticket over six able opponents in the first primary, but failed of election in the second primary by a small margin.

Since that time he has served as office clerk in the local office of the State Highway Department. Due to positions he was holding, which prohibited political activities, he was precluded from making his announcement earlier for his present candidacy and from entering upon an active campaign. However, he is now at liberty and is making an active campaign as far and wide as possible. While his announcement is a little late, it was nevertheless generally understood that he would be a candidate.

He states he is running for this office strictly on his own merits and, in addition wishing to serve his country in that capacity that he feels satisfied he is well qualified for, he is also seeking it as a livelihood for himself and family and is in no way connected with any other enterprise or pursuit; that he is not backed or put out by any individual, combination or group and that he can assure the public that, if elected, he will go into the office for the people, unobligated and free to one and all alike.

He further states that if the good people of Hancock county see fit to elect him to his important office that he deems it his duty to give his best to their interest, and since he considers that as his sole source of sustenance and also an obligation that a good servant has to his people he promises this sincerely. SCHARFF STORE IS ROBBED

Front Door Lock Pried Open
And Cash and Vending
Machines Carried Away.

When Tony Noto, employee of the Joseph R. Scharff store arrived for work Thursday morning and opened the store he found the lock of the front door had been pried off and the premises invaded during the night.

He at once notified Mr. Scharff and an investigation that followed revealed that one penny vending slot machine had been taken away and that a petty cash draw (for early morning change making) had been broken and the contents of eight dollars and some odd cents missing. Nothing else was found missing, even though a heavy and fresh stock of tobacco and cigarettes had been received the evening previously.

No clue to the robbery was available. However, the robbery was reported to the authorities and an investigation is being carried on.

The Scharff store is equipped with electric burglar alarm, but since the alarm will start off on the slightest provocation and frequently a false alarm in deference to the neighbors and peace the batteries were disconnected.

A Bank Not Free From Runs.

Jane (on street)—For mercy sake, Jen, everybody is glancing down at the bills inside your stocking.

Jen—That's all right. I like to have my money where it will draw interest.

Mr. Kergosien's experience coupled with his education especially fits him for this office. His experience with the records and with tax matters for the past 20 years is self-assuring that he is thoroughly familiar with the duties connected with this office and inasmuch he has also served four years as deputy tax-collector. Thus it can easily be seen that he has dedicated his adult life to public service and that to the satisfaction of all concerned.

His candidacy is subject to the Democratic primary, August 8 and also to the second.

R. W. TAYLOR SCHOOL CLOSES AFTER A SUCCESSFUL SESSION

Many Activities and Hard
Study Make For Successful Results.

Robert W. Taylor city school, located in the extreme north end of Ward 1, closed its 1938-39 session recently after a season of success which marks the progress of this school year after year under the highly successful guidance of Mrs. Lena Stockstill principal, a teacher whose efforts and community spirit means much for the school and pupils.

One of the many elements making the school the outstanding success it achieves was the attendance and co-operation. Hot lunches were served every day under the able supervision of Mrs. Celia St. Angelo. The children, it is reported, gained weight and improved rapidly in their grades from term to term.

The school reports many enjoyable social features during the session, including a Thanksgiving party, an All-Hallowe'en party, a Christmas program, accompanied by the annual treat of a great Christmas tree, with presents for all, presented by Mr. George E. Pitcher, outstanding benefactor of the school and children.

The candies were given by Mrs. Trapani and Mrs. Moreau and by members of the Taylor School P. T. A.

On the last day of the session Mr. Ed Ortte took the children out to the country for a picnic and the pupils are grateful for a pleasant outing not to be forgotten.

The pupils were justly proud of Junior Trapani who was chosen as king of the municipal May Festival, with Miss Shirley Shear as queen. Pictures of Junior and his royal robes are among the lasting souvenirs the school will cherish since he is an enrolled pupil.

On closing day gold medals were awarded as follows:
Elsie Noto—Perfect attendance.
Wilber Adam—Perfect attendance.
Tommy January—Perfect attendance.

Lloyd Johnston—Medal for highest general average for the year.

Two of these medals were given by Geo. E. Pitcher, one by C. G. Moreau and one by Mrs. Stockstill. The school takes this opportunity to thank all its kind friends for such splendid cooperation and express the hope for the same consideration for the next year's work.

CONTRACT AWARDED

Harry L. Witter, local painter and decorator was advised this week by federal authority that he had been the successful bidder for the work of redecorating the interior of the Bay St. Louis postoffice. The contract also carries repaving and repairing the roof which had proven faulty and leaky. This latter work he will sub-contract. Mr. Witter will enter upon this interior and exterior painting at once and that the job will be done in first-class workmanship and satisfactory manner goes without saying.

Fair, State Bank Comptroller, in which the latter says "that all banks in the State may be closed July 3rd and 4th, and both of said days may be observed and celebrated as holidays by all banks in the State," both the Hancock Bank and Merchants Bank & Trust Company, of Bay St. Louis, will transact no business on Monday and Tuesday of next week, July 3 and 4. Patrons and others will govern themselves accordingly.

FOSTER-HODA, KILN, MISS.

The marriage of Miss Laura Hoda, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Hoda, to Mr. Woodrow Foster, both residents of Kiln, was an interesting event, both parties prominently known. The ceremony was performed at the residence of the bride's parents, the Rev. Father Denis, pastor of Kiln Catholic Church, performing the simple and impressive ceremony in the presence of a large number of friends.

The bride was becomingly attired in blue chiffon, accessories to match, while the groom was attired in a conventional suit of summer gray. The maid of honor, Miss Loney Hoda, a sister of the bride, was becomingly attired in a chiffon of deeper shade of blue. The best man was Mr. Erwin Bobinger.

A reception and celebration followed to which many attended. The bride couple's popularity was well attested to by the many handsome presents received.

HIGGINS—DURAYNAUD

Miss Leona Duraynaud and Mr. Contant Higgins, both of this city, were married Sunday, April 23, 1939, by the Very Rev. A. J. Gmelch, pastor church Our Lady of the Gulf officiating. The attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Norman Benigno. The couple are residing with the groom's parents in Bay St. Louis.

Newspaper Advertising Tops All Other Media.

DEATH OF MRS. CHARLES CHADWICK.

Remains of Mrs. Charles Chadwick, who died at her home in Gulfport during Wednesday night, will be brought to Bay St. Louis this Friday afternoon for interment. RED CROSS LIFE SAVING COURSE TO PROVE OF VALUE.

Local Municipal Water Has High Rating—Sinking of Back Bay Bridge.

NEWS column of The Sea Coast last week carried a story how two residents of Hancock county, one from Bay St. Louis and the other from Kiln, had more than in ordinarily successful way taken the life-saving course at Kamp Kittiwake, near Pass Christian, under auspices of the Red Cross, the young lady and young gentleman from Hancock attending under sponsorship of the Hancock county chapter American Red Cross, of which George R. Rea is local resident chairman.

This news item was of more than ordinary import and because it means the service of life savers in our midst with the summer now fast reaching its zenith and swimming at its height.

Miss Chapman of Bay St. Louis, not yet reaching the age limit of 18 years to receive her certificate, is, however, qualified, and may go on in the art of teaching swimming, how to help one's self when in danger and how to render first aid. Mr. Peterson, from Kiln, a teacher, will well put to use and to advantage what he studied and knowledge acquired. There are the waters of Jordan river and the tributary bayous and there is quite an area where such service might be requisitioned to a wide range of use.

It might not be amiss to call attention to the fact water rent for the city of Bay St. Louis is due and patrons are receiving in the mail notices to call at the city hall and pay for the privilege of using some of the best water in the world. The city of Bay St. Louis largely depends on its revenues from different sources in order to continue the functions of its government and of these none the least is the water-works system. Our city is well equipped with ample supply of water and its use, unrestrained by meter, affords an unusual service for the comparatively low price charged.

Water is an absolute necessity. In Bay St. Louis we have a plentiful supply and of the best quality for drinking and domestic purposes. Dr. C. M. Shipp, county health officer, some time back handed this writer a copy of the analysis of Bay St. Louis water, declaring the water of the highest drinking quality, containing the usual calcium elements, sulphur, bi-carbonate soda, etc. The usual remarks following an analysis declared the water ideal for drinking purposes and its softness made it ideal for the bath and laundry. Never missing water till the well runs dry, it might be well as a sense of duty of discharging our obligations but further to show our appreciation of the splendid waters and facilities we possess, to show a disposition to pay the bills promptly and thus helping the city to collect its money and to aid the officials. In brief, water bills are due now. Don't be delinquent.

Reports from Biloxi are to the effect sections of the vehicular bridge over Back Bay was discovered sinking—at a depth of eight inches. Later investigations found a displacement of 16 inches and the bridge ordered closed. This is a serious situation and no cause has as yet been assigned. Laymen, however, report that heavily-laden trucks, particularly those carrying timber and lumber, are responsible for this situation. In the meantime an investigation will be made and the true cause located.

The Biloxi Daily Herald is seeking federal aid—WPA possibly, to defray the cause of possibly rebuilding the sinking sections where piling are slipping below original level, and editorially calls attention to the situation, its remedy and how the cost may be defrayed. It is no small matter and calls for immediate attention.

This might be a warning to other bridges where traffic of extreme weight is unrestricted.

The following was written in the office of The Sea Coast Echo many years ago, filed away with other manuscript—because the editor was not inclined to its publication. However, it holds as good today as when it was first written:

It has been said that the newspaper records our birth, tells of our efforts at childhood, our triumphs at youth, records our marriage, our success thru life and our children and down the line of generations; to be repeated over and over.

And then the passing away of its citizens, the press forgets their sins and pays tribute. Our sins, seemingly become virtues and Mr. So-and-so figures as a prominent citizen, a leader in the community. What a kind press! And frequently publishes our pictured likeness, regardless.

The press is a booster supreme! It gives all the time, seldom it receives even a faint praise of thanks. When it does, it has accomplished nothing as far as word of commendation goes. When it fails, tired by repetition and lack of appreciation, it is condemned.

It works the hardest, but is the poorest paid, that is, when some one really pays. From the press much is expected—not even asked for, but looked for.

The small daily and weekly newspaper is the most accurate record of a community. There is nothing else like it; much space is covered that could not be bought nor paid for. But the true newspaper is not mercenary, strange as it seems, but only to that extent that others might be paid for their services.

The newspaper is unselfish. It does for others, seldom a thought of self. It is anxiously looked for, either daily or weekly, yet it is the thing quickest forgotten.

It is a compendium of current news and information. There is nothing like it covering a wide range of news and views; a something not to be had from any other source in life and is a complete presentation. The retail price—only five cents. What a pittance for so much!

But the press is modest. It asks for little—that it gets. For others it is lavish in praise and gives generously with no expectancy of reward.

The real newspaper man is born. He is not made. His destiny begins at early life and the star of his life falls only when the shadows fall, the eyes are dimmed, and the hands—busy ones in life—are grasped in final repose.

PASS CHRISTIAN JOINS BAY CIVIC CLUB IN ANNUAL BANQUET EVENT

Rotary Clubs of Sister Cities Install Newly-Elected Officers—Nicholas Bauer, Superintendent of City Schools At Orleans, Guest Speaker.

Celebrating its fourteenth anniversary with a joint banquet and meeting with the Pass Christian Rotary Club, Bay St. Louis Rotary in an inter-city meeting at Hotel Reed, Bay St. Louis, Tuesday evening, celebrated the occasion in a most auspicious manner, and both clubs on this occasion installed their officers for the new year.

City Superintendent of Schools, Nicholas Bauer, of New Orleans, was guest speaker and delivered an address on "Old Fashioned Patriotism," which had the true ring and struck a responsive cord. The talk was timely and dwelt on democracy and the rare privileges which this country and its people enjoy. Mr. Bauer was enthusiastically applauded for his fine and scholarly address. He was formally introduced for the club by Chas. G. Moreau.

Retiring President Rene de Montlun presided, delivering a welcome address to the Pass members and guests who had come from away to Terrell Perkins, Bay St. Louis resident and well known developer, is announced in this issue of The Sea Coast Echo for the office of supervisor from Beat 5, representing the Bay-Waveland section of the county.

This is one of the important beats of the county, it carries the density of population and within it are the only two incorporated sections of Hancock.

There is much to be done for this section in further development, says Mr. Perkins, in order that we may capitalize on our vast resources and possibly turn some of our dormant assets into potent elements of the success to which this great section is destined.

Live and progressive, acquainted with the potential possibilities of really development, he would put this knowledge and experience to a further purpose and accomplishment for things that would permanently establish prosperity in that sense of substantial being.

There are many claims made for this section, says the candidate, but unless they are realized they are of no value.

"I want to serve the people of Beat 5 and Hancock county in such manner," he says, "that they will at no time regret my election. I want to bring more people here, more dwellings and possibilities, industries in order we may have a more taxable value and in this wise reduce taxation without impeding progress. I believe in a liberal application and intelligent consideration of all things that mean for improvement. There are many things that must be encouraged, not only building and home-making and attracting more people here but making better conditions for people already here. The development of the live stock industry is one of the potential possibilities for Hancock county and this is one of the many things that should be encouraged.

"I ask for the consideration of every lady and gentleman voter in the Beat and should I receive their favor and final approval when the ballots are counted I shall prove grateful by giving them in return the best that I am capable of, well realizing that the office of supervisor is an important one. It is an executive position and one that gives vast opportunities for improvement and promotion of our best interests."

UNDERGOES SUCCESSFUL OPERATION.

Clarence Mitchell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Mitchell, successfully underwent an operation at a private clinic in Algiers Wednesday afternoon and late reports are that he is doing very well, a surgeon of unusual ability and experience performing the ordeal. Clarence, student at L. S. U., had enrolled in the R. O. T. C. and was at Fort Benning, Ga., when his medical examination revealed he was a victim of unrelieved hernia. An operation was declared imperative by the army surgeon and Clarence returned home. We hope for him a rapid recovery.

OVER IN LOUISIANA.

TRIUMPHANT at last in his tireless quest for state power, Governor Earl Kemp Long moved swiftly to rehabilitate and save the old Huey Long political machine, badly shaken by "financial irregularity" charges claiming attention of federal authorities.

The new chief executive, brother of the late "Kingfish," promised no let-up in a clean-up of knotted political affairs of the state. Long was sworn in Monday night following the resignation of Richard W. Leche in the midst of further federal scrutiny of WPA activities there. Leche's term had eleven months to run.

Long's staunch political ally and mentor, Mayor Robert S. Maestri of New Orleans, sat beside the new executive as he outlined his plan for occupancy of the ornate gubernatorial mansion his brother built for himself in 1929, high above the Mississippi river.

The influence of Maestri, noted for his conservative, constructive, business-like administration in Louisiana's metropolis, led some to hope the state's affairs under Earl would be less tumultuous than under his older brother's rule.

First of the major mysteries growing out of the political upheaval concerned the whereabouts of Dr. James Monroe Smith, genial president of Louisiana State University, a staid educator turned over-night into a fugitive following his disappearance and charges he had embezzled $100,000 in university funds.

State auditors in Baton Rouge and in New Orleans brokerage houses were busy unscrambling Smith's complicated accounts, in which were reported indications he met financial distress by speculating on a falling wheat market. Later reports are to the effect Smith's alleged shortage will involve some one million dollars.

Comment at this time must be withheld until the atmosphere is cleared and the truth of this state of affairs may be established.

FIREWORKS DANGEROUS.

NEXT week the people of the United States will celebrate Independence Day. Some of them will vent to their feelings through the use of fireworks.

It may be worthwhile, in this connection to point out that in 1938 there were eighteen deaths due to the celebration of the Fourth of July with fireworks and other explosives and seven additional deaths indirectly due to the same cause. In addition, the reports of the American Medical Association show nearly 8,000 serious injuries of all kinds from fireworks accidents during the observance of Independence Day last year. Among the accidents were 300 eye injuries, 43 of which resulted in blindness in one or both eyes.

The indiscriminate use of fireworks, particularly by young children, is dangerous. The explosives used are powerful enough to maim and injure human beings. Because of this fact, hundreds of cities and towns have laws prohibiting the sale of fireworks.

It has been suggested that the people of a community celebrate the Fourth of July, if they desire to do so, with community celebrations, including pyrotechnic displays under the supervision of experts. This will eliminate most of the accidents in connection with fireworks, give the people of the community a more entertaining spectacle and do as much to observe the day that marks the anniversary of American independence.

FOURTEEN YEARS OF ACTIVE WORK.

BAY St. Louis Rotary Club celebrated its fourteenth anniversary Tuesday night, in joint annual banquet and installing newly-elected officers with the Pass Christian Club.

The fact is significant for the reason that the club has carried on and thru for so long a time and that its accomplishments have been more than ordinary.

Our Rotary Club down the vista of years has been directly and indirectly responsible for many of the major improvements that have come to this city. It has promoted civic feeling and the value of contact has been of much worth.

Tuesday night's affair was significant inasmuch it represents a unity of public interests and a spirit of public promotion that has added to the city's assets.

The retiring president, Rene de Montluzin, Jr., has given the club much time and attention and he leaves with a fine record. We wish his successor, Jesse Gray, much success and we are certain he will continue the good work. All he asks is the co-operation of the members. This is only fair and a modest request. Much power and success to the new president.

Well, let's remember, that the President can't get a third term unless the people vote for him.

In this day and generation you must not only put out a good product but you must advertise it.

The churches in the United States are well-supported; let us trust that religion makes equal progress.

Now is the best time of the year for fishing, local streams are full of the finny tribes, it's up to you to get them.

With the large crowds expected on the Mississippi Coast it might be wise to drive carefully at all times. Safety first!

OUR "UN-AMERICAN" METHOD OF SELECTING A PRESIDENT.

IT MAY surprise some Americans to be told that the framers of the Constitution of the United States did not intend that the people of the United States should elect a President. The Constitution provides for the subsequent selection of a President by this group of chosen individuals.

In the development of the political party system in the United States, the practice came into being of selecting electors specifically pledged to particular candidates. Thus, while the voters did not vote for the President, he did vote for an elector specifically pledged to his candidate. This is the reason that the outcome of a presidential race in the United States can be foretold on the night of the election.

The voice of the people in electing a president is further removed when we consider the fact that only fourteen states have primary laws giving the voters a direct vote in naming delegates to conventions that nominate candidates. Inasmuch as the President of the United States must be a candidate of a major party, it is obvious that the power to name candidates is almost of equal importance with the election of the president.

Twelve states select their convention delegates in primaries and in two states an executive committee decides whether preferential primaries shall be held. In all other states the delegates are selected at party conventions, which means maneuvering, trading and the off-stage work which is usually associated with conventions.

It is worth calling to your attention that the American system of selecting a president does not depend upon the vote of a majority. Upon occasion, the United States has had a president who was selected over a rival supported by a greater number of voters. This may seem paradoxical, but it can easily happen under the present system of presidential elections.

There is, it seems to us, an opportunity for reform in the method of electing the President. We would not go so far as to advocate election by a popular vote throughout the United States because this would destroy the relative importance of states. We think, however, that the people of every state should have an opportunity to express their wishes in primary elections in electing delegates to party conventions. This would tend to assist the popular candidate of a party to secure the convention's nomination.

SABOTAGE AND SUBMARINES.

THE fact that the three great democracies lost one of their latest type submarines within a period of less than a month has caused many people to think that sabotage had something to do with the disasters.

It makes no difference what the experts say. There will exist in the public mind the suspicion that something sinister was connected with the loss of these ships. The old superstition that disaster strikes in threes is readily quoted, but those who call it to mind do not recall that the Japanese lost a large submarine in February with a loss of 81 lives and that not long ago, a German submarine sank in the Baltic.

The idea of sabotage on a submarine is discounted by naval experts who point out that successful sabotage on a submarine would mean death of the individual responsible for it. Damage in port or built-in, concealed defects are smiled at by submarine experts.

The chances are that the loss of the three submarines was due to dangers inherent in submarine operations. Under the water, an operating error or a human failure brings instant tragedy. The perils of mechanical defects are multiplied for boats that go under the waves. A light mishap, which might be easily corrected on a surface ship, brings inevitable destruction.

We do not extend much credence to the theory of sabotage but we are quite certain, regardless of expert opinion, the idea will persist in the public mind that something sinister caused the recent submarine disasters.

GOOD COFFEE.

MILLIONS of dollars are spent annually to the American people to drink specific brands of coffee. Some of the best radio programs are sponsored by coffee houses. Their announcers tell hearers about the care that is taken in blending and roasting, and emphasize the speed with which the finished product is rushed from the ovens to the householder's kitchen.

Those who enjoy coffee above anything else that is served at meal times are grateful to the coffee houses for improving and standardizing their products. Good coffee today is easy to obtain at any store. Good coffee is simple to make at home. Good coffee is served in nearly every restaurant and club.

But—Observation forces the conclusion that not more than one person in six has either a nose or a palate for good coffee. Five-sixths of the coffee drinkers either allow their coffee to lose most of its heat, or they pour in sugar and cream until the coffee flavor is lost. What they drink, from my point of view, is a lukewarm dish of pale goo that might as well have been made from peanut shells.

Coffee has no potency as a stimulant unless taken without either cream or sugar and don't let anybody try to tell you to the contrary.

"GOOD OLD DAYS"

IN THE horse-and-buggy days it was an unusual family that kept a horse and buggy. But when the auto age came, the auto became a virtual necessity in a far higher percentage of families than ever dared to aspire to have their own stable.

Why do we say that, because in the past land and a home were only for the few, need it be so? There is land for all, and building material for all. More things for more people is the only way out. But only the engineers and technologists realize it fully.

The rest of us yearn for the "good old days," realizing that they weren't half good enough, and that what is needed is not a return to the good old days, but a determined advance to a better day.

Funeral Services At New Orleans For Mrs. Adolph Schreck.

Funeral services for Mrs. Adolph Schreck, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. S. Speer, of Bay St. Louis, was held in New Orleans Friday afternoon from the residence of an aunt of the deceased, Mrs. Amelia Ziegler, 818 Ninth street, with the Rev. W. S. Allen, pastor Bay St. Louis Baptist church, officiating. Interment was in Valence Street cemetery, New Orleans, in the family burial plot.

Mrs. James H. Sylvester, personal friend, sang Mrs. Schreck's favorite hymn, "Jesus Saviour, Pilot Me." Last rites were attended by many friends and acquaintances, including many from Bay St. Louis, Mrs. Schreck's former home prior to her marriage.

Mrs. Schreck died last week at San Antonio, Texas, where she had been ill for some time at a hospital there. She was formerly Miss Gladys Speer, native of Georgia, age 25 years, and a graduate from Bay High School and graduate nurse Baptist hospital at New Orleans. Summer School at Cuevas.

Last Sunday at 6:30 A. M., June 25 Mass took place at our Lady of Lourdes church, Cuevas, Mississippi, before an overflowing congregation of Catholics and protestants. Two sisters of Mercy, Sisters Mary Fabian and Mary Baptist prepared a class of 18 children for their first holy communion; 43 children attended regularly for two weeks the summer school at Cuevas. They all received communion at that mass and the fact is of a Catholic population of 118 on that morning.

The sisters taught the children to sing beautifully—such hymns as "Mother, Dear, O Pray for Me" and "What is more marvelous they sang a 'Capella' without organ. The acts before and after Holy Communion were intelligently recited by a boy and girl of the congregation. However, at the end of the Mass, Father Sorin was surprised to hear 49 children sing so heartily and as a profession of faith "O Sacred Heart, O Love Divine," that the memory of it will never be forgotten by all present.

The altars were beautifully decorated and Father Sorin's address was up to the occasion.

GULFPORT HANCOCK BANK MOVES TO NEW LOCATION JULY FIRST.

The Hancock Bank will open in the Bank of Gulfport Bldg. shown above, on July 1. Located since 1932 on the corner of 26th Avenue and 13th St., this banking institution is moving into this new location where, according to the management, "it is felt that more efficient and satisfactory service can be rendered the public with the more modernized facilities." —Gulfport Guide.

GULFPORT HANCOCK BANK TO MOVE IN NEW LOCATION JULY FIRST

To Occupy Former Bank of Gulfport in Order to Enjoy Wider Facilities Demanded By Its Ever-Increasing Business—Coast Bank Prosperous.

Gulfport, Miss., June 23.—The Hancock Bank that has operated in the building owned by this institution on the corner of 26th avenue and 13th street since 1932, has leased the ground floor and banking facilities formerly occupied by the First National Bank, Gulfport, and will move to its new quarters on the first of July.

In 1932 the Hancock Bank, domiciled then at Bay St. Louis but operating banks at Long Beach and Pass Christian, was urged by the citizens and business interests of Gulfport to establish its banking business there. At that time, in the severest period of the money panic following the 1929 depression, Gulfport was suffering grave inconveniences in obtaining adequate banking service and it is said that for this reason the management of the Hancock Bank yielded to the insistence upon the establishment of its business in Gulfport. Since then, the bank has met all feasible requirements and demands for banking facilities in this territory. The most cordial relationship has existed between it and the public.

It is felt by the management of the bank that more efficient and satisfactory service can be rendered the public through its operation in the new quarters with the more modernized facilities to be furnished there.

Mrs. Lillian Geisinger, native of Selma, Ala., and a former resident of Mobile, Ala., but for the past twenty-six years residing in Nicholson avenue, near the intersection of Jeff Davis avenue, in one of the former John Henry properties, died at her home in Waveland Saturday night at 10:20 o'clock, June 24, 1939.

Mrs. Geisinger was long advanced in years and resided with her son, Oliver C. Geisinger in the quietude of the beauty of the section in which she resided.

Remains were taken in charge by the Fahey Funeral Home and prepared for shipment to Mobile, Sunday morning on train No. 4, for interment at Magnolia cemetery, Mobile, that afternoon at 4 o'clock.

In addition to the son with whom she resided she is survived by two other sons, Charles F. and Hardin B., residents of New Orleans, and one sister Miss Adele Blalack, of New Orleans, and other relatives.

Mrs. Geisinger was well known in Mobile and in Waveland, where she spent the evening of her life and the news of her demise was received with general regret.

Last rites were performed here at the funeral home by the Rev. A. J. Boyles, pastor of the First Methodist church, of Bay St. Louis.

Pearlington Paragraphs

BIG BINGO—

A bingo party will be given on the evening of July 3rd on the lawn of Saint Joseph's Rectory at 7 o'clock. This will be the first of a series of happy evenings to help defray the expense of building a new church at Pearlington. Lovely prizes will be awarded to the winners, and delicious refreshments will be sold. Do not fail to go.

CHURCH DEMOLISHED.

Thursday afternoon was one of feverish activity at Saint Joseph's church when a crew of men led by the experienced Jack Bennett undertook to tear down the back portion of the church, which no longer of any use. The money obtained from the sale of the lumber will help to roof the church proper.

Father Victor hopes that the roads in front of his house will be repaired before the Bingo Party on July 3rd.

Mrs. Henry Pullman has graciously volunteered to laundry Father Victor's linen. This is a mighty donation, and Father wishes to express his sincere gratitude publicly.

Mr. Raymond Garcia and Joseph Mons report that the moon has been bad for alligator hunting.

Father Victor requests tourists and visitors to drive carefully thru Pearlington. His people are very poor and some thoughtless tourists have killed the cows and pigs of these poor people.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart have returned from New Orleans to live in the cool beauty of Pearlington. Mr. Stewart is a photographer of experience, while his charming wife operates a beauty parlor.

The regular Parish meeting of St. Joseph's church will be held every Thursday evening at Father Victor's residence.

Mr. Tom Dean believes that it won't be long before someone will be asking for the hand of his beautiful daughter, Miss Verma.

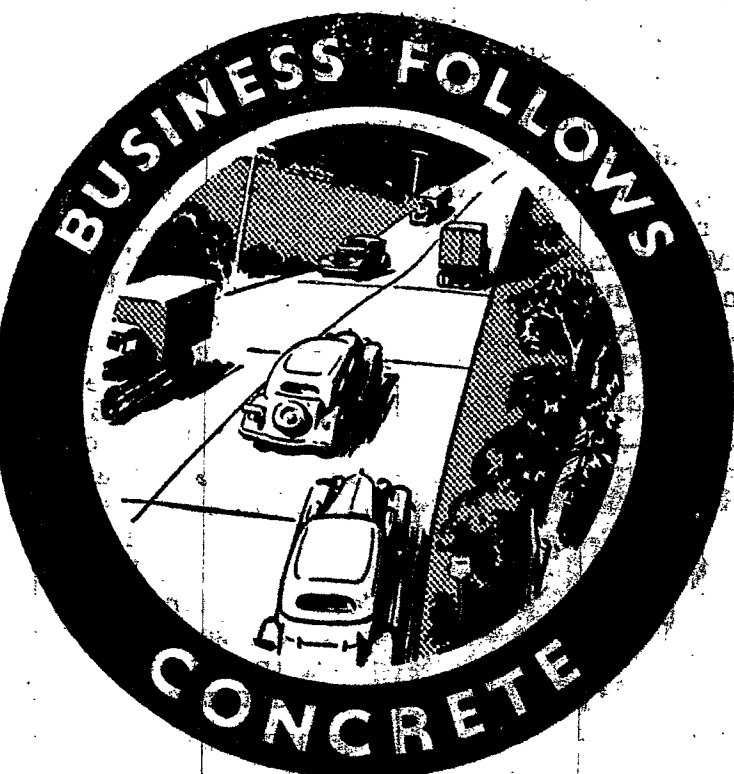

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Favre report that they have been very busy taking care of their many firm friends at the White House.

Postmistress Mrs. Thomas Dean reports that the government's postal business has increased greatly in the last three weeks.

The new store to be opened by Mr. Russell, Lot is nearing completion. It is situated across from the postoffice, and will specialize in good meats. Mrs. Russell Lott is the official inspector of construction.

CONCRETE HIGHWAYS PAY FOR THEMSELVES

Three reasons why concrete is the most economical pavement:

1. Long life and low upkeep—funds which would otherwise be spent for repairs may be used to complete your highway system.

2. Scientific investigation has proved that it costs motorists less to drive on concrete than on inferior surfaces.

3. Concrete builds business, promotes travel. A town on concrete is moved closer to all markets.

And in addition to these money-reasons concrete pavements give motorists relaxation... comfort... and swift travel with SAFETY!

ERROL FLYNN IN "DODGE CITY" TECHNICOLOR FOR SUNDAY

And Monday at A. & G. Theater—DeHaviland and Sheridan Among Stars

The roughest and toughest cattle town in the history of the western frontier is the setting for the vigorous title of virile adventure told in "Dodge City," the Warner Bros. production in Technicolor, starring Errol Flynn, which opens Sunday at the A. & G. Theater.

Other members of what is undoubtedly the most notable cast ever assembled for a picture dealing with western pioneer days include Olivia de Havilland, Ann Sheridan, Bruce Cabot, Frank McHugh, Alan Hale, John Littel, Henry Travers, Henry O'Neill, Victor Jory, William Lundigan and Guinn "Big Boy" Williams. Aside from its brilliant and obviously impressive cast, the picture is distinguished by its magnificent and authentic re-creation of the scene and the time depicted. The lavish detail with which the Dodge City of the 1870's and the great plains which surrounded it are vividly brought to life on the screen make it easily believable that, as reported, the studio spent a million and a half dollars on the production. In brilliant, natural Technicolor, the vast production is said to give the spectators the feeling that history is being relived before their eyes.

Putting the manifestly British Errol Flynn into a tale of frontier America may seem a little strange to those who are not too well acquainted with the actual history of the old west. As a matter of fact, the annals of those times record more than one venturesome Briton who acquired distinction as a hero in a region where a man without virility and courage could not long survive.

The story of "Dodge City" is laid in the period when this little community in the southwestern corner of Kansas, as the northern terminus of the famous old Chisholm Trail and the western terminus of the Santa Fe Railway, became the west's greatest cattle shipping center.

The exciting plot of the picture was an original screen play by Robert Buckner and the production was directed by Michael Curtiz, who stands at the top of all Hollywood directors of action and adventure pictures because of his previous work on such productions as "The Adventures of Robin Hood," "The Charge of the Light Brigade" and "Captain Blood."

The resident trapper's license is $5.25 and non-resident license is $20.1. The resident fishing license is $1.25 and $2.25 for family fishing. The non-resident fishing license is $3.25. Only a few changes have been made in the hunting season for this year. The quail and rabbit season opens on Thanksgiving Day and continues to January 31. The squirrel season will open October 1 and continue through December 31. The new season for hunting turkeys is from April 1 to April 20. The old season was March 20 to April 7. To Heirs at law of Mrs. Elizabeth McLaughlin Quinlan.

You are summoned to appear before the Chancery Court of the County of Hancock in said State, on the First Monday of November, A. D. 1939, to defend the suit No. 4232 in said Court of Patrick H. This the 27th day of June, A. D. 1939.

(SEAL) A. G. FAVRE, Clerk.

YOUNGER-HEITZMANN HEITZMANN-CRISLER

The poet has asked what is more rare than a day in June. The perfect days of the year are given to June. It is then when the blue of heaven is bluest and the light of the longest days of the year are the brightest, all seemingly conspiring to create a time when the Almighty has endowed nature with its happiest charms.

Last Sunday, June 25, 1939, was typical of such a day. Heaven seemed to smile here below in seemingly blessed benediction and bestowing happiness for the four young people who on that day in Bay St. Louis pledged their troth before Hymen's high altar.

At the church of Our Lady of the Gulf there assembled at 2 o'clock friends and acquaintances of the contracting parties, filling the spacious church to almost capacity.

Here was solemnized a double wedding, a scene seldom witnessed and probably the first of this kind in many years. Double because two of the contracting parties were brother and sister, and the ceremony was performed in immediate sequence and in the same and one scene.

This double ceremony took place when Miss Lottie Mae Heitzmann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Heitzmann, became the bride of Mr. Bernard Joseph Younger, son of Mrs. C. V. Younger and the late Mr. Younger, and Miss Eugenia Ann Crisler, daughter of Mrs. E. D. Roberts and the late Mr. Crisler became the bride of Mr. Edward Heitzmann, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Heitzmann, Sr. The very Rev. A. J. Gmelch, pastor, officiated, with Russell Elliott and Cyril Piazza as altar attendants.

Miss Heitzmann was given in marriage by her father, and Miss Crisler by Mr. L. Greenwood of New Orleans, dear friend of the Crisler family. Both brides were strikingly lovely in wedding gowns, made identically alike, of silk net over satin. The skirts joined to fitted waists fell into a long train. The sleeves were long forming points over the hands, and covered buttons were on the sleeves and down the back of the waists. They were becoming face veils of illusion falling short in the back and held to the head with a gardenia and spray of lilies.

The varied exquisite bouquets of gardenias and tube roses tied with wide satin ribbon.

Miss Heitzmann's maid of honor was her sister Louise who was dressed in blue silk net over taffeta, made similar to the brides, with the covered buttons on the back of the waists, short puffed sleeves, and velvet sashes of a darker blue. She carried yellow roses. Miss Crisler had as her maid of honor Miss Margie Heitzmann, another sister, dressed in a lovely shade of orchid net made exactly as the others. She carried tulle roses.

The bridesmaids were Miss Adelaide Heitzmann, in yellow, Miss Dot Morris in pink, Miss Margaret Prevost in aquamarine, and Miss Elsie Mae Capdepon in peach. Their dresses were made identically the same as the maids of honor. They carried old fashioned bouquets, the flowers matching the color of their gowns. They were becoming face veils, held in place with a flower contrasting with the color of their dresses.

The two flower girls were little Miss Honorine Damborino and Miss Margaret Ann Kruebe. They wore gowns of silk net over taffeta with velvet sashes, one in pink and the other in aquamarine, made exactly as the brides. Their bonnets were shirred net with sprays of matching flowers. They carried old fashioned bouquets.

The groom, Mr. Bernard Younger, had as his best man his brother, Mr. Robert Younger, and the groom Mr. Edward Heitzmann had as his best man Mr. Bobby Rudd. Messrs. Gus Flaspoller, Noel Thompson, Louis Trull, Marcus Rudd were groomsmen. Mrs. Marie E. Weber organist accompanied by Miss Louise Armstrong, violinist played the bridal march. During the ceremony the selection, Largo, by Handel, was played. Miss Margie Scalford sang Ave Maria by Gounod and Sweet Mystery of Life. The ushers were Mr. Henry Capdepon and Mr. Theodore Heitzmann. The mothers, Mrs. Heitzmann, Mrs. Younger and Mrs. Roberts, wore smart frocks of blue, and corsages of roses.

A reception was held for relatives and friends at "Uncle Charlie's Nite Club." Here a collation was served and the usual refreshments followed. Members of the bridal party arrived later and the reception was held until a late afternoon hour, when the contracting parties left on a honeymoon trip of unannounced destination.

An item of interest to a wide circle of friends in Bay-Waveland and New Orleans is the intelligence received Tuesday from Cleveland, Ohio, from Mr. W. A. Reiss telling of the arrival of a daughter and that mother and child are doing exceptionally well. Mrs. Reiss, before her marriage last June, was the former Miss Louise Carrere, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edouard C. Carrere. The message conveyed the news that the young lady weighs over 7 lbs. and is of the bunnet type and as lovely as her mother, and no doubt, possessing the fine attributes of both father and mother. Mrs. Carrere plans to leave for Cleveland within the next few days to see her first grandchild and visit with her daughter and son-in-law.
